

Second Week of After Stock-Taking Bargains

The MARK-DOWN MAN is hard at work. Every day of the past week he has been skirmishing through the store for odd lots and broken sizes. Prices fall away to almost nothing under his magic pencil. Cost is ignored; values of such magnitude are created that items advertised will vacate counters and tables at once. Some lots are small. We therefore urge early shopping. Sale began MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 15TH.

BAKER WINS OUT IN SPECIAL ELECTION

Republican Nominee Is Kauai's Choice For Auditor

As the result of the special election, held last week on Kauai, to fill the office of County Auditor, which became vacant when the regular fall election was declared a tie, G. E. H. Baker, the Republican nominee, and the man originally declared elected snatched his opponent, Charles Blake, completely under.

The original count at the autumn election gave Blake an advantage of only four votes. The incomplete returns from the special election show Baker 204 votes ahead, and Niihau, which went solidly Republican at the regular election, have not yet been heard from. All returns, with the exception of those from Niihau, have been received. The vote by precincts for the special and regular elections are as follows:

Niihau—Baker: Special election, 1; regular election, 38. Blake: Special election, 1; regular election, 9. Kikaha—Baker: Special election, 51; regular election, 46. Blake: Special election, 13; regular election, 15. Waiimea—Baker: Special election, 107; regular election, 74. Blake: Special election, 22; regular election, 46. ### HILO ASKED TO CRITICIZE, AND DID

New Court House Plans Will Be All Right—When Fixed

The Hilo Board of Trade devoted the most of its time Tuesday afternoon to criticizing the preliminary plans submitted by the Public Works Superintendent, for the new Hilo court house. Mr. Campbell forwarded blue prints and called for criticism.

More than an hour's discussion ensued on the plans submitted. Judge Parsons pointed out its deficiencies for Court House purposes. Assessor Willfong criticized it from a tax office viewpoint. Deputy Sheriff Fetter explained its absolute unfitness for police purposes. Land Agent Williams took up the cudgels for his bureau especially as to the small size of the vaults which, Chairman Scott said, were just large enough for the few coffins of a small family.

Then Carl Smith ripped the building to pieces from roof to basement, pointing out weak spots and inconveniences on every floor and in almost every room. Judge Andrews didn't want it under any circumstances. Health Inspector Bowman didn't like it but wanted all to work for the appropriation. Chairman Scott was surprised that Superintendent Campbell should have sent such a plan and wished he would come to Hilo to talk it over. Finally, on motion of Bowman, the matter was left in the hands of the committee of directors to communicate with Campbell.

WAILUKU CELEBRATED ON LINCOLN DAY

(Special to the Bulletin)
Wailuku, Feb. 13.—Lincoln Day was observed by Principal C. E. Copeland and the teachers of the Wailuku Public School at the school house Friday afternoon. There was a goodly number of the citizens present to listen to the literary exercises by the pupils. The life of Lincoln by Roberts; Gettysburg address by Edith Naome, and patriotic airs by the school and an address by Rev. D. B. Dodge made up the program of the day. The heavy winds which prevailed, accompanied by heavy rains in the afternoon, kept
